Campbellsville Independent Schools

Learning Place For Students

Educational Philosophy

It is the belief of the Campbellsville Independent Board of Education that the curriculum offered in the school district and the methods of instruction used to present it should be as many and as varied as the needs of the children. Curriculum should be adopted to the children, not the children to the curriculum. It is therefore the intent of the Board that curriculum and instruction in the Campbellsville Independent Schools be planned and implemented for the purpose of taking the children where they are and helping them become all that they are capable of being at the time they leave the school district....

In the Matter of)
Amendment of Section 73.606(b))
Table of Allotments,)	MM Docket No. 01-148
TV Broadcast Stations,)	RM-10141
(Campbellsville and Bardstown, Kentucky))

DECLARATION OF WILSON HATCHER

I am Wilson Hatcher, Community Affairs Coordinator for WDRB-TV, Louisville, Kentucky. I worked at WDRB-TV for two years beginning in 1971, and I have worked continuously at WDRB-TV since 1976.

On Thursday, August 23, 2001, I visited the main studio of WBKI-TV, Channel 34, Campbellsville, Kentucky. The main studio is located at 1601 Alliant Avenue in Louisville.

When I arrived at WBKI-TV's main studio, I was greeted by a receptionist. I asked her if I could see WBKI-TV's public file. She called a woman who arrived shortly thereafter. That woman introduced herself to me as Ms. Weining.

Ms. Weining handed me the attached document explaining WBKI-TV's public file procedures. She then escorted me to a room containing the public file. I asked to see WBKI-TV's letters from the public and its issues and programs lists. Ms. Weining provided me with approximately 100 letters and with issues and programs lists for 2000 and for the first two quarters of 2001.

In reviewing the issues and programs lists, I failed to see any programs or program segments responsive to ascertained issues. Rather, it appeared that these reports contained only lists of public service announcements broadcast by WBKI-TV. I was unable to determine what issues had been ascertained by WBKI-TV or what ascertainment efforts WBKI-TV has undertaken.

I asked Ms. Weining if I could have copies of the materials I had reviewed. She told me that WBKI-TV charges $0.08 per copy and that she would need to send the documents to an outside service for copying. She offered to mail the documents to me, and she told me that it could take up to seven days before the materials became available. I responded that I would like the documents as soon as possible, so I would instead call her to check on the status of my request. I handed Ms. Weining cash in full payment for the requested copies, and she provided me with a receipt, a copy of which is attached.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

PUBLIC INSPECTION FILE – INSPECTION

This is the WBKI – TV Public Inspection File. We make every effort to keep the file complete, accurate, and in compliance with the Rules of the Federal Communications Commission. It is organized, subsection for subsection, in the same manner as the Federal Communications Commission's Public Inspection File Rule, which is found at Title 47, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 73.3526. If you want to see something from a particular subsection of the Public Inspection File Rule, go to that subsection in the Public Inspection File to find it.

We will provide you with a seat and desk or table to review the Public Inspection File. We hope to make you as comfortable as possible under the circumstances and if you desire anything in this regard please ask Lisa Weining, who is the employee who has custody of the Public Inspection File. We request that you remove the materials from the Public Inspection File only one subsection at a time, and that they be replaced immediately upon completion of your review of the subsection. Please feel free to ask for the assistance of Lisa Weining, in replacing any materials in the Public Inspection File, since it is important that the material be kept well organized. To assist you in your examination of our Public Inspection File, we have prepared a "WBKI Public Inspection File Document List," a copy of which is attached to this notice, that describes the various documents that are part of our Public Inspection and Political Files.

If you desire to have photocopies of anything in the Public Inspection File, we will provide you with paper clips or other means of marking the pages so that you can identify the pages or subsections that you wish to have photocopied. Please do not disassemble the file; rather, identify the portions you want photocopied with the clips and markers provided. Upon completion of your review, we will provide an order form so that you can order photocopies of the desired material from a commercial photocopier located in our area. This will assure that you get your photocopies back in the quickest possible time, that the work is done accurately, and that your charges are standard market charges for the work done. We will not be able to make copies of materials found in the Public Inspection File for you at the station.

If you have any questions about the file, please address them to Lisa Weining. If Lisa Weining cannot obtain the answer during your visit to the Station, Lisa Weining will ensure that you receive an answer, either orally or in writing, just as quickly as possible. If you have any complaints about the cooperation you have received, please contact Bill Bradley, General Manager, either personally or by calling (502) 809-3400 or by writing to the Station.

Thank you again for visiting our station. We hope you enjoyed your visit and found everything to your satisfaction.

Statement re Continued Eligibility

Campbellsville University ("CU") operates Low Power Television Station W04BP at Campbellsville, Kentucky. W04BP is the only television service with offices and studios in Campbellsville.¹

CU timely filed a Statement of Eligibility for Class A Low Power Television Station Status on January 28, 2000. In that Statement, CU advised the Commission that W04BP, for the 90-day period ending November 28, 1999, broadcast a minimum of 18 hours per day, broadcast an average of three hours or more per week of programming produced within the market area served by the station, and operated in full compliance with 47 CFR § 74.701 et seq., the Commission's regulations applicable to low power television stations.

On June 2, 2000, the Commission released its Public Notice of Certificates of Eligibility for Class A Television Station status (DA 00-1224), identifying CU as among the licensees eligible to file an application for Class A status for W04BP.

CU proposes to continue its program service on W04BP in a manner consistent with its representations to the Commission and with its past service to the public. However, recent facts that have come to the attention of W04BP management warrant an update to the Commission and have triggered appropriate action.

The W04BP program service originates at its offices and studios at 1 University Drive in Campbellsville. CU relies on Campbellsville's cable television operator, Comcast Cablevision of the South, to deliver the program signal to the W04BP transmitter site. At some point during the 90-day period preceding November 28, 1999, Comcast experienced degradation of its cable Channel 4. Believing this to be caused by the over-the-air co-channel signal of W04BP, Comcast demanded that the University turn off the W04BP transmitter, under threat of deletion of the W04BP signal from the cable system. The W04BP over-the-air signal was turned off. It has been returned to service intermittently in order to investigate the problem, but the broadcast signal has not been reliably restored, as Comcast and CU continue to confront and examine the issue.

Comcast has continued to carry the W04BP program service on its system so that service to the public, which enjoys a very high degree of cable penetration, continued without interruption. However, the forced shutdown of the W04BP transmitter is at variance from the unequivocal terms of CU's Statement of Eligibility. It warrants disclosure to the Commission, and prompts CU to assert an alternative basis for its eligibility for Class A status for W04BP.

Section (f)(2)(B) of the Community Broadcasters Protection Act provides that a station may qualify for Class A status if "the Commission determines that the public interest, convenience, and necessity would be served by treating the station as a qualifying low-power television station for purposes of this section, or for other reasons determined by the Commission."² The Commission interprets this provision to permit deviation from the statutory eligibility criteria "when we determine that there are compelling circumstances," such as "a natural disaster or interference conflict which forced the station off the air during the 90 day period before enactment of the CBPA."³

CU submits that the circumstances of W04BP's being off the air during the 90-day qualifying period were grounded specifically in an interference conflict, and thus meet the Commission's test for compelling circumstances that permit deviation from the statutory eligibility criteria. But for the degradation of the cable system Channel 4 signal, the cable operator would not have forced the University to turn off the W04BP transmitter under threat of deletion of the signal from the system. At that, the station's program service continued to be delivered to all cable subscribers, and the community has a high degree of cable penetration.

CU and Comcast are continuing to work out a solution to the problem so that W04BP can maintain a consistent and reliable over-the-air service. As the only television station with a tangible, physical presence in the local community, it is patently in the public interest for W04BP to be licensed as a Class A television station.

Accordingly, CU requests that the Commission process this application to grant, and that it license W04BP as a Class A television station.

Exhibit #9

This instant application does not cause/receive interference to WSMV, Channel 4+, Nashville, TN per §73.6011.

There is however, calculated interference to WAVE, Channel 03-, Louisville, KY. The protected WAVE 47 dBu is overlapped by the W04BP 59 dBu interfering contour. Because this condition is in existence today with the licensed W04BP, it is assumed that W04BP operation is grandfathered. No physical change is being sought in the W04BP facility including power, location or height.

Exhibit #10

This instant application for a Class A television Station is in compliance with all known allocation requirements to clear the digital television Application of WDKY-D, Channel 04, Danville, KY. There are 1,322,047 persons in the WDKY-D noise-limiting contour. §73.622 allows 0.5% of those persons in the noise limiting area to receive interference. Using Probe, a commercially available program from V-Soft Communications, it was determined those viewers of WDKY-D who would receive interference are well within the 0.5% limit and in compliance with §73.622.
